HOLLYWOOD GOSSIP

"Streetcar" Cops More Honors As Picture Of Year

With 12 nominations for motion picture Academy Awards, more than received by any other film in the 1951 Oscar race, "A Streetcar Named Desire," produced by Charles K. Feldman for Warner Bros., has reached a new high in honors.

The picture, which is enjoying a spectacular advance showing in key cities across the country and will soon go into general release, won nominations in Academy categories as follows:

Best picture; best performance by an actress, Vivien Leigh; best performance by an actor, Marlon Brando; best performance by a supporting actress, Kim Hunter; best performance by a supporting actor, Karl Malden; best direction, Elia Kazan; best black and white art direction, Richard Day; best black and white cinematography, Harry Stradling; best black and white costume designing, Lucinda Ballard; best music score, Alex North; best sound recording, Col. Nathan Levinson; best screenplay, Tennessee Williams.

In addition, the film has been voted best by the New York Film Critics Circle and the San Francisco Critics Council, and was high on the 10-best lists of the National Board of Review and the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Also "Streetcar" took top awards at the recent 12th International Film Festival at Venice, and the foreign press group in Hollywood nominated it for further honors.

In a national network poll of radio commentators, it was among their 10-best choices, and numerous magazines, foreign and American, have hailed it as the best picture of the year with additional kudos going to the players.

Youngster Sheds Southern Accent, Adds More Roles

Anne Whitfield is only 13, but she's already gained and lost an accent—southern, that is.

Anne is currently playing an important part in color production "The Miracle Of Our Lady Of Fatima," starring Gilbert Roland. It's a role she probably wouldn't have gotten if she still had her accent.

Anne was born in Oxford, Miss., where southern accents are really Mason-Dixon. She came to Hollywood with her parents at the age of 7. Before long she had a chance to appear on a network radio serial as a little daughter of a San Francisco family. But Anne definitely sounded like a little girl from Oxford, Miss.

Situation was solved by introducing Anne as a family member who had spent her childhood in Germany. She spoke her initial part in German and the story had her learning English—which gave her the time to speak the language without a trace of her southern accent.

Costello Sings For First Time

There are some surprises in store for Abbott and Costello movie fans. Their first film for Warner Bros. release will be a new Supercinecolor version of the famous fairy tale, "Jack and The Beanstalk."

In it Lou Costello will not only portray little Jack and cause the beanstalk to grow from five beans sold him by Bud Abbott, but will warble his first song for films. The song is titled "I Fear Nothing," and was written for the picture by Bob Russell and Lester Lee.

Actress Suffers Injuries But Picture Goes On

Playing the feminine lead opposite Kirk Douglas in "The Big Trees," Eve Miller did so under painful circumstances—a lacerated swollen knee which caused her to walk with a limp.

The lovely brunette newcomer luckily escaped worse injury during the filming of the Technicolor outdoor drama when she figured in an auto collision while motoring to a location site near Eureka, Calif., center of the giant redwood forests.

The accident occurred when the driver of a car ahead stopped suddenly and Miss Miller couldn't halt in time and hit the other car.

So it was a case of real acting when Miss Miller was obliged to hide her limp and to walk naturally as the cameras turned.

Felix Feist directed the film, with Lou Edelman producing for Warners.

Hero Turns Actor

Peter Ortiz, who appears in "Retreat, Hell!", is one of World War II's most decorated heroes. Ortiz fought with both French and United States forces, and currently Warners is preparing a script based on his military career, "The Fighting Marine," which will star Cornel Wilde. In "Retreat, Hell!" he portrays a major—in real life Ortiz is a colonel in the Marine reserves.

Yes, He Has Bananas

John Brahm will leave for Mexico after he finishes directing "The Miracle Of Our Lady Of Fatima" to make preparations for the harvesting of the banana crop on his plantation near Taxco. The hacienda on the estate dates back to the days before Cortez.

Indian Youths Visit Father On Film Set

Two young Indian boys—the adopted sons of Will Rogers Jr.—made their first visit to a motion picture studio recently when they watched their father appear in scenes for "The Story Of Will Rogers."

The boys are Clem, 13, a full-blooded Hopi, and Randy, 14, who is a part-breed Hopi.

But they were considerably more interested in Jane Wyman's bustle than they were in their father's acting.

Miss Wyman plays the role of Mrs. Rogers in the Technicolor film which is based on the book, "Uncle Clem's Boy" by Betty Rogers.

Eve Miller Hopes To Be Fashionable

Eve Miller hopes that she'll get a chance to "dress up" in her next picture. For her most recent film appearance in "The Big Trees," she wears only one garment—a high-necked, long-sleeved, shoe length gingham dress.

Miss Miller, shapely new Warner contractee who plays a member of a religious sect in the Technicolor outdoor drama, says the costume wasn't entirely without its rewards because she still got her man—same being Kirk Douglas.

"But it is only natural for a girl to want to be fashionable," she says, "and you can't be if you wear the same dress all the time."

Sheep Eat Set

The flock of 40 sheep grazing on a hillside set for scenes in "The Miracle Of Our Lady Of Fatima" has been raising havoc with the turf. Appetites of the sheep have necessitated three complete changes of greensward during a day's shooting.

POLIO PLEDGE

IF POLIO STRIKES MY HOME

I Will...

- Have confidence in my doctor, knowing the earlier the care, the better my chances for complete recovery. I know that I have a better than even chance to recover without paralysis.
- Call my local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis immediately for information or help. The telephone book or my health department will tell me how to reach the chapter.

- Remember that whatever financial help I need for polio care will be given through the chapter. This is made possible by the gifts of the American people to the March of Dimes each January.

I Will Not...

- Allow myself to mingle with strangers, especially in crowds, or go into homes outside my own circle. There are three different viruses that cause polio. My group may be immune to one of those. Strangers may carry another polio virus to which they are not immune.

- Let myself become fatigued or chilled. Overtired or chilled bodies are less able to fight off polio.

- Take myself away from my community without good cause. Polio time is the time to stay at home and keep with everyday companions.
